

WIKIS

What are they and why would you want one? Use this interactive tool for classroom management, student/teacher collaboration, and more. Make your library accessible from home and school at the point of need.

WIKIS

No one owns content

No specific organization (hyperlinks)

Anyone can edit other people's work

Perpetual work in progress

Good for collaborative group work

BLOGS

A person owns their post

Organized in reverse chronological order

Only the author can edit their own work (others can only comment)

Posts are permanent

Good for disseminating info/starting a dialogue
